Y9 Poetry: Faces of Love

Why?

This unit is designed to expose you to a wide range poetry with one common theme: LOVE! Poetry is an important key concept in literature, it is unique in its language structure and form allowing writers to express profound ideas and emotions in small capsules. It is important to love poetry from all eras as context is key to understanding.

Speak like a literary critic...

NostalgiaA sentimental longing or affection for something from the past. E.g childhood.ProfoundSomething very great or intense. E.g The day had a profound effect on me.ConflictedConfused or uncertain about how you feel or what to do.JuxtaposeTwo contrasting ideas put close together to draw attention to their difference.ConnotationsA cultural or emotional association with a word or phrase.InfatuationA short lived but intense passion for someone or something.InconsolableSuffering a level of grief where one cannot be comforted.HistrionicOverly dramatic or emotional often seeking attention.AccusatoryIndication of the belief that someone has done something wrong.EmancipationThe process of being set free from social or political restrictions.CatharticSomething which provides relief through open expression of emotion. Outcome is catharsis.
ProfoundSomething very great or intense. E.g The day had a profound effect on me.ConflictedConfused or uncertain about how you feel or what to do.JuxtaposeTwo contrasting ideas put close together to draw attention to their difference.ConnotationsA cultural or emotional association with a word or phrase.InfatuationA short lived but intense passion for someone or something.InconsolableSuffering a level of grief where one cannot be comforted.HistrionicOverly dramatic or emotional often seeking attention.AccusatoryIndication of the belief that someone has done something wrong.EmancipationThe process of being set free from social or political restrictions.CatharticSomething which provides relief through open	Nostalgia	A sentimental longing or affection for a profound effect on me.ConflictedConfused or uncertain about how you feel or what to do.JuxtaposeTwo contrasting ideas put close together to draw attention to their difference.ConnotationsA cultural or emotional association with a word or phrase.InfatuationA short lived but intense passion for someone or something.InconsolableSuffering a level of grief where one cannot be comforted.HistrionicOverly dramatic or emotional often seeking attention.AccusatoryIndication of the belief that someone has done something wrong.EmancipationThe process of being set free from social or political restrictions.CatharticSomething which provides relief through open		something from the past. E.g childhood.
ConflictedConfused or uncertain about how you feel or what to do.JuxtaposeTwo contrasting ideas put close together to draw attention to their difference.ConnotationsA cultural or emotional association with a word or phrase.InfatuationA short lived but intense passion for someone or something.InconsolableSuffering a level of grief where one cannot be comforted.HistrionicOverly dramatic or emotional often seeking attention.AccusatoryIndication of the belief that someone has done something wrong.EmancipationThe process of being set free from social or political restrictions.CatharticSomething which provides relief through open	Profound	Something very great or intense. E.g The day had what to do.JuxtaposeTwo contrasting ideas put close together to draw attention to their difference.ConnotationsA cultural or emotional association with a word or phrase.InfatuationA short lived but intense passion for someone or something.InconsolableSuffering a level of grief where one cannot be comforted.HistrionicOverly dramatic or emotional often seeking attention.AccusatoryIndication of the belief that someone has done something wrong.EmancipationThe process of being set free from social or political restrictions.CatharticSomething which provides relief through open		a profound effect on me.
JuxtaposeTwo contrasting ideas put close together to draw attention to their difference.ConnotationsA cultural or emotional association with a word or phrase.InfatuationA short lived but intense passion for someone or something.InconsolableSuffering a level of grief where one cannot be comforted.HistrionicOverly dramatic or emotional often seeking attention.AccusatoryIndication of the belief that someone has done something wrong.EmancipationThe process of being set free from social or political restrictions.CatharticSomething which provides relief through open	Conflicted	Confused or uncertain about how you feel or draw attention to their difference.ConnotationsA cultural or emotional association with a word or phrase.InfatuationA short lived but intense passion for someone or something.InconsolableSuffering a level of grief where one cannot be comforted.HistrionicOverly dramatic or emotional often seeking attention.AccusatoryIndication of the belief that someone has done something wrong.EmancipationThe process of being set free from social or political restrictions.CatharticSomething which provides relief through open		what to do.
ConnotationsA cultural or emotional association with a word or phrase.InfatuationA short lived but intense passion for someone or something.InconsolableSuffering a level of grief where one cannot be comforted.HistrionicOverly dramatic or emotional often seeking attention.AccusatoryIndication of the belief that someone has done something wrong.EmancipationThe process of being set free from social or political restrictions.CatharticSomething which provides relief through open	Juxtapose	Two contrasting ideas put close together to or phrase.InfatuationA short lived but intense passion for someone or something.InconsolableSuffering a level of grief where one cannot be comforted.HistrionicOverly dramatic or emotional often seeking attention.AccusatoryIndication of the belief that someone has done something wrong.EmancipationThe process of being set free from social or political restrictions.CatharticSomething which provides relief through open		draw attention to their difference.
InfatuationA short lived but intense passion for someone or something.InconsolableSuffering a level of grief where one cannot be comforted.HistrionicOverly dramatic or emotional often seeking attention.AccusatoryIndication of the belief that someone has done something wrong.EmancipationThe process of being set free from social or political restrictions.CatharticSomething which provides relief through open	Connotations	A cultural or emotional association with a word or something.InconsolableSuffering a level of grief where one cannot be comforted.HistrionicOverly dramatic or emotional often seeking attention.AccusatoryIndication of the belief that someone has done something wrong.EmancipationThe process of being set free from social or political restrictions.CatharticSomething which provides relief through open		or phrase.
InconsolableSuffering a level of grief where one cannot be comforted.HistrionicOverly dramatic or emotional often seeking attention.AccusatoryIndication of the belief that someone has done something wrong.EmancipationThe process of being set free from social or political restrictions.CatharticSomething which provides relief through open	Infatuation	A short lived but intense passion for someone comforted.HistrionicOverly dramatic or emotional often seeking attention.AccusatoryIndication of the belief that someone has done something wrong.EmancipationThe process of being set free from social or political restrictions.CatharticSomething which provides relief through open		or something.
HistrionicOverly dramatic or emotional often seeking attention.AccusatoryIndication of the belief that someone has done something wrong.EmancipationThe process of being set free from social or political restrictions.CatharticSomething which provides relief through open	Inconsolable	Suffering a level of grief where one cannot be attention.AccusatoryIndication of the belief that someone has done something wrong.EmancipationThe process of being set free from social or political restrictions.CatharticSomething which provides relief through open		comforted.
AccusatoryIndication of the belief that someone has done something wrong.EmancipationThe process of being set free from social or political restrictions.CatharticSomething which provides relief through open	Histrionic	Overly dramatic or emotional often seeking something wrong.EmancipationThe process of being set free from social or political restrictions.CatharticSomething which provides relief through open		attention.
EmancipationThe process of being set free from social or political restrictions.CatharticSomething which provides relief through open	Accusatory	Indication of the belief that someone has done political restrictions.CatharticSomething which provides relief through open		something wrong.
Cathartic Something which provides relief through open	Emancipation	The process of being set free from social or political restrictions.
expression of emotion. Outcome is catharsis.	Cathartic	Something which provides relief through open expression of emotion. Outcome is catharsis.

What other emotive vocabulary can you think of surrounding 'love'? Add it to your glossary as we learn.

Key Concepts: Parental Love

Parental love is what could be called a 'poisoned chalice' or 'double-edged sword.' Whilst love for a child runs deep in maternal and paternal instincts, there is also the element of letting go and being constantly vulnerable to pain watching your child grow older and navigate the dangers of the world and adult life.

Romantic Love

Romantic love can be so many things, both positive and negative. It can be all consuming and make your life feel complete, whilst also clouding your vision and masking some ugly truths. It has the power to elevate and crush!

Twisted/Toxic Love

Toxic love is sadly a prevalent part of life, something we are all vulnerable to encountering and experiencing. Some relationships can be subtly toxic and damaging whereas some, like in our poem, can be physically and mentally damaging in drastic ways.

Unrequited Love

Just as easily as we can fall into deep and passionate love with another human, we can fall out of it too. Just like Romeo's love for Rosaline, sometimes things are just not mutual.

Self Love

Arguably the most important love of all, self love is about acceptance and freedom through loving oneself just as one is, flaws and all. No-one is perfect but loving yourself is extremely important: Be your own No1 FAN!

Love is an abstract concept and can present itself or be interpreted in many ways.

Vocabulary

Hyperbole	Exaggerated statements or claims which are not literal.
Dramatic	A poem in the form of a speech or narrative by an Monologue	imagined person, in which the speaker inadvertently reveals aspects of their character while describing a particular situation or series of events.
Ballad	A poem or song written in short stanzas, often written to be performed to music.
Context	The relevant information about author or era related to a text which allow it to be fully understood.
Stanza	A verse of poetry (like a paragraph).
Caesura	A pause in a line of poetry usually caused by punctuation.
Enjambment	The continuation of a sentence beyond the end of a line of poetry – where lines run on.
Rhyme	Ordered pattern of rhymes at the end of the lines of a scheme	poem.
Tone	The general attitude of a piece of writing. E.g
	sad/uplifting.
Semantic	A set of words with a related meaning.
Field
Volta	A turning point in a poem where there is noticeable change in tone/action.
Dialectal	Words or phrases which reveal accent or place of the
Markers	voice/writer.
Monosyllabic	Single syllable words often used together to create an effect.
Anaphora	Repetition of a word or sequence of words at the start of sentences/lines.
Microcosm	Encapsulating in miniature the characteristics of something much larger. E.g. one marginalised voice representing the whole of a marginalised community.
Macrocosm	A large often worldwide structure contrasted with a small representative part (microcosm).

Recall and Embed: Which devices are we already aware of and which are unique to poetry?